ucla longevity center
senior scholars

since 1995, the senior scholars program has given adults age 50 and over the opportunity to audit ucla classes, in an effort to keep minds active and promote cross-generational learning.

benefits:
✓ world-renowned professors
✓ beautiful, architecturally diverse campus
✓ access to campus resources (library, course webpages, bookstore, etc.)
✓ 700 courses available in over 100 subject areas
✓ one-step application process via email, mail, or fax
✓ no tests or papers - learn at your own pace

other programs of interest:

brain boot camp
an intensive course providing hands-on instruction from ucla neuropsychologists.
email: bcamp@mednet.ucla.edu
phone: (310) 794-0676
cost: $300

memory training
an innovative, four-week course that teaches practical techniques designed to improve memory.
email: sgoldfarb@mednet.ucla.edu
phone: (310) 794-0680

designed to keep brain function healthy and active while promoting cross-generational learning.
Course Information

Fees:
$25 non-refundable registration fee
$125 for one course
$225 for two courses

✓ Participants may audit undergraduate lectures or seminars, except for laboratory (e.g., chemistry), language (e.g., Spanish), studio art (e.g., painting) or writing courses.

✓ No need to worry about closed courses. As auditors, Senior Scholars do not count towards total class enrollment. Final acceptance into a course depends on classroom space and professor approval through the Longevity Center.

Campus Information

Location:
Classes take place on the picturesque, 419 acre UCLA campus. A map of the campus and classroom locations will be provided upon enrollment.

Parking and Transportation:
Permits are $11/day in any campus (non-hospital) lot or $213/quarter. Disabled parking permits are $4/day throughout the campus. Use of public transportation is encouraged.

Times:
Classes usually meet 2-3 times per week, but once a week courses are available. The quarter lasts for 10 weeks, with an average weekly time commitment of 4 hours in lecture.

How To Apply

Finding A Course:
A list of current courses is available at: www.registrar.ucla.edu/schedule
-or-
An abbreviated list of courses specifically for Senior Scholars is available upon request.

Payment:
Payment is due upon application. Charges will post immediately after the drop deadline for each quarter.

For more information and application contact:
UCLA Longevity Center
at
(310) 794-0679
-or-SrScholars@mednet.ucla.edu to be added to our mailing list