Application for FULL MEMBERSHIP 2024

The International Society for the History of the Neurosciences (ISHN) was founded in 1995. Its mission is to:

- improve communication between individuals and groups interested in the history of neuroscience;
- promote research in the history of neuroscience; and
- promote education in and stimulate interest for the history of neuroscience.

The Journal of the History of the Neurosciences: Basic and Clinical Aspects, the official organ of the society, is published by Taylor & Francis. Now in its 33rd year, the Journal provides a forum for investigations in the field of neuroscience history, as broadly defined, including the history of basic, clinical, and behavioral neurosciences, ancient and non-western topics, and significant individuals, events, and technical advances. ISHN is a focal point for those interested in neuroscience history and offers, through its journal and annual meeting, opportunities to contribute to this rapidly growing field.

FULL MEMBERSHIP (US$45) in the ISHN for the calendar year January-December 2024 supports production of the Journal of the History of Neurosciences (JHN), hosting our Annual Meeting for an affordable registration fee, the ISHN-L listserv, the society's website, and monthly online programs in the history of the neurosciences. ISHN is a volunteer organization that welcomes participation of its members.

JHN now is publishing online only, without a print edition, for individuals. Because many members are able to access the online journal without an individual subscription fee (through their home institutions' licenses), we separated ISHN Membership and JHN Online Annual Subscriptions. ISHN members may register for an annual individual online subscription to JHN for US$40.

Please see instructions on the following page for sending an email to our publisher, Taylor and Francis, to join/renew ISHN membership and (if desired) subscribe to the online edition of JHN. Taylor and Francis will send you a pro-forma invoice and instructions for completing payment.
