UCLA Research Study

Rheumatoid Arthritis Patients

Needed for a Study on Sleep

The study involves:

- Physical evaluation and interview
- Four overnight sleep assessments with EEG sensors & blood draws
- Intravenous infusion of placebo or Remicade, an FDA approved medication for Rheumatoid Arthritis
- Compensation of up to $510
- Risk include possible skin irritation from EEG sensors & possible pain from blood draws

Please call 310-825-8425 for more information

Study conducted by
Sarosh Motivala, Ph.D., Daniel Furst, M.D. & Michael Irwin, M.D.

UCLA IRB# 03-05-013-12
Expiration Date: AUG 11 2010

Cousins Center for Psychoneuroimmunology
UCLA Neuropsychiatric Institute

APPROVED
AUG 13 2009
UCLA MEDICAL INSTITUTIONAL REVIEW BOARD