

UCLA

CAN REACH TRAINING PROGRAM

PARENT & COMMUNITY LECTURE

Remaking Recess: An Evidence-based Social Engagement Intervention for Elementary Aged Autistic Youth in Schools

Jill Locke, Ph.D.

Associate Professor in the UW Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences, a licensed child psychologist, and research affiliate at the Seattle Children's Autism Center

Alice Bravo, Ph.D., BCBA-D.

Assistant Teaching Professor and Director for the Applied Behavior Analysis Program at the University of Washington

Attendees will learn...

- How to identify engagement states of autistic youth on the playground.
- The core foundational strategies in Remaking Recess.
- How to boost engagement between autistic youth and their peers.
- About the research underlying Remaking Recess.

Thursday, May 30th, 2024

TIME: 12:00PM-1:30PM

LOCATION: Zoom

CONTACT: uclacanreach@gmail.com, (951) 638-0948

RSVP here

www.uclacanreach.com