

Tarjan Center Lecture Series presents:

Longitudinal Outcomes and Service Needs for Adults on the Autism Spectrum

Amanda Gulsrud, Ph.D.

Assistant Professor in Psychiatry
Clinical Director, Child and Adult Neurodevelopmental Clinic
UCLA Semel Institute for Neuroscience and Human Behavior

LEARNING OBJECTIVES:

1. Gain understanding of contextual factors related to development in adulthood.
2. Learn about the current evidence base for behavioral intervention in this population.
3. Identify the complex service needs of adults with ASD.

WEDNESDAY

June 15th, 2016

12:30 – 1:30 PM

Location: UCLA
300 Medical Plaza, Suite 3200
3rd Floor Marisa Leif Conference Room
Los Angeles, CA 90095

Light snacks and beverages will be served.

Giveaways provided
at this lecture.

All are welcome. No RSVP is required.

tarjancenter.org/lectureseries

For more information or to request a disability accommodation, contact:

310.825.5054 | bstoffmacher@mednet.ucla.edu